Iteration, basic programming constructs and loops | Part D

In this video we've looked at how to repeat sections of program code using count controlled and condition controlled loops. We've now investigated the three main ways of controlling the flow of a program: sequence, selection and iteration. Thanks very much for watching.